

Project Management for Scientists 2015

Exercise 5

Due by 21 October 2015 at 23:59 CET

Submit a proposal according to the following guidelines:

Nirvana Science Foreclosures (NSF) requests proposals from eligible scientists to initiate innovative research in all areas of science. Grants will be awarded to individuals for projects up to 5 years in duration and up to a total amount of €250'000. A panel of scientists from all areas of sciences will review and rank the received proposals. The Board of Directors will make the final selection, which will be announced around 16 November 2015.

Eligibility: Any BSc, MSc and PhD student or postdoc taking the Project Management for Scientists 2015 course at Leiden University.

Form: Single A4 page with at least 2 cm margins on all four sides, font no smaller than 11pt. The following sections are mandatory: Title, Contact Person with Address, Brief Biography of Principle Investigator, Summary, Project Description, Innovative Research Aspects, Project Plan and Budget. Only PDF files will be accepted.

Deadline: 21 October 2015 23:59 Central European Time

Submission procedure: via email to Christoph Keller, keller@strw.leidenuniv.nl, who will also answer any questions that may arise.
